Dear Customer,

What is in a Name?

The Harounian name has been well known in the international carpet & rug industry for at least a century. The product of generations of carpet weavers and traders, David & Lee Harounian's experience is peerless in the modern carpet & rug manufacturing industry. With an extensive family heritage, including carpets exhibited in renowned museums around the globe, David & Lee's expertise and erudite understanding of the industry and its methods have shaped Harounian Rugs International, known as HRI to the many designers, retailers, and consumers throughout the world.

What is our Art?

For generations, we have made a commitment to design and color, to the quality and supervision of our original productions, and to the service and delivery of our ageless pieces. The innovations that you have come to expect from HRI are a direct result of our designers' efforts to boldly explore new design concepts while intelligently reacting to current decorative trends and needs. HRI designs manufacture and market an unsurpassed value driven the selection of area rugs. HRI's staffed offices and factories in the USA, India, Pakistan, China, Nepal, and Turkey creatively integrate the design, construction, logistics, and marketing of HRI's award-winning and comprehensive collections of tailored and programmed carpets & rugs.

Merging the Classics with the Contemporary

The introduction of our new collections is precisely why we have achieved the status of one of the premier manufacturers of Oriental Rugs in the United States. We have taken the classic Persian designs, such as Serapi, Heriz, Mahal, and Oushak, and while maintaining design integrity, added subtle suggestions of contemporary designs, colors, and essence. As always, our commitment to quality is reflected in the production of our collections; only the finest quality is used in our magnificent hand-made carpets. Only those pieces that meet our stringent specifications enter our inventory and our customers' homes.

You and Us

As a privately held family company, HRI views itself as a partner with each individual client it enters into a business relationship and inspire their clients with their vision of today's industry coupled with the never-ending possibilities, capabilities, and creativity of the HRI team.

Sincerely,

Harounian Rugs International (HRI)
